MINUTES OF THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE HAWAIIAN MISSION CHILDREN'S SOCIETY.

The Hawaiian Mission Children's Society met at the Lunalilo Home on August 22, 1903. The weather was inclement and few were present. Vice-president Dr. A. B. Clark occupied the chair. The meeting was opened with prayer by R. W. Andrews, followed by the hymn, "Blest be the tie that binds." Mrs. R. W. Andrews was made secretary pro tem. The minutes of the previous meeting were not forthcoming.

The collection was taken up by the treasurer.

The president's address, read by Lyle A.

Dickey, was then taken up for discussion.

Mr. O. H. Gulick seconded the motion of C. H. Dickey to reduce the social meetings to one annual meeting, and proposed that the nature of the society be changed from a social and missionary society, to a society to perpetuate the memory of a select people. This would necessitate a chage in the constitution.

Mrs. Weaver approved, and suggested that the annual meeting be largely commemorative of the landing and work of the missionaries.

Mr. Andrews said, that as a social organization we must prepare for its sepulture, but as a commemorative organization, it cannot die, because of the vested rights of the absentees, and also because of the Bond fund which was given as a nucleus to bind the society together.

Dr. Clark said that "as a missionary society its usefulness is past, but as a memorial society it must ever continue. He told of his appreciation of the Report during the many years of his absence, and he thinks this should be continued, but agrees that one annual meeting, without stiffness and without business, will supply the social needs of the society.

Mr. Andrews suggested that throughout the year, as opportunity offered, a good work could be done along the line of Miss Julia Gulick's idea, in assisting Mr. and Mrs. Damon in entertaining passing missionaries.

Mr. Gulick proposed that a committee be appointed to canvas these two subjects, and the acting president suggested the new officers as that committee.

The treasurer's report was read and accepted.

As it was late, the corresponding secretary's report was left over to the adjourned meeting.

Dr. W. D. Alexander was appointed to draw up resolutions of appreciation for Hon. G. D.

Gilman's services to our country, to be forwarded to him.

It was moved to adjourn to meet Saturday, August 29, at "Castle Home."

Minutes of Adjourned Annual Meeting

The meeting was held at Castle Home, September 5, 1903. It was opened with prayer by W. W. Hall, followed by the singing of two hymns by the sweet young voices of the children of Castle Home.

The corresponding secretary's report was read and approved.

Dr. W. D. Alexander read a resolution of thanks to Hon. Gorham D. Gilman, and it was orderd to be incorporated in the Annual Report. The secretary was also authorized to insert all items of interest which have occurred since the yearly report was written, in May.

A letter was read from Mr. Wm. H. Gulick, of Spain, respecting the death of his only remaining son, Frederick Carleton. Parts of the letter were ordered printed.

The election of officers followed. Dr. A. B. Clark was nominated for president. He agreed to serve, provided he was empowered to appoint a committee to help in changing the constitution, making it a memorial society, and in working up an interest in that line.

The officers were then elected by ballot. Dr. A. B. Clark, president; Mrs. Ellen A. Weaver, vice-president; Mrs. R. W. Andrews, secretary; Lyle A. Dickey, treasurer; and Rev. W. D. Westervelt and Dr. W. D. Alexander elective members of the Board.

A motion was made by Mrs. Weaver and passed, that the president be authorized to appoint a committee of not less than five members, to join with the executive committee in making the changes necessary, five of this enlarged committee constituting a quorum.

The President appointed, as part of that committee, W. O. Smith, L. A. Thurston, W. W. Hall, Mrs. Emma Dillingham and Miss Harriet Austin.

The society adjourned to meet at the call of the president.

The president authorized the secretary to proceed with the printing of the Report as usual.

Respectfully submitted,
MRS. R. W. ANDREWS.

Resolution of thanks to Hon. Gorham D. Gilman.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society are hereby extended to the Hon. Gorham D. Gilman for his eminent services in defending "the memory of the missionary fathers and mothers who brought Christianity to these Islands," for the able support which he has constantly given to those who have labored to uphold the principles and to continue the work of those venerated pioneers, and for the warm aloha which he has always shown towards the native people of Hawaii.

An absence of thirty years has not dimmed his memory of Hawaii nei, nor abated his affection for this land and for the people among whom he spent the prime of his life.

These services have been freely given without desire or expectation of reward, and have not as yet been duly acknowledged. It is therefore but just that the remaining years of his vigorous and useful old age should be cheered by the grateful recognition of all true lovers of Hawaii.

Resolved, That the corresponding secretary of this Society be requested to communicate the above resolution to Hon. Gorham D. Gilman.

REPORT OF THE RECORDING SECRETARY

The first meeting for the present year was held on September 27th, 1902, at the residence of Mrs. M. J. Forbes The meeting was well attended and enthusiastic, the Cousins feeling that they should continue the work of the Society with renewed vigor after their summer vacation.

A feature was the delightful singing of Mrs. Annis Montague Turner, who rendered several arias in her usual exquisite manner.

December 6th again saw the Cousins meet, this time at the residence of Mrs. A. F. Cooke. The Society elected a number of new members and enjoyed a most interesting musical programme. At this meeting a great number of the remaining unbound missionary albums were reported disposed of, and the Society definitely settled the basis on which the balance should be sold.

The work of the Society was fittingly concluded by its meeting of January 31st, where, at the residence of the Reverend W. M. Kincaid, a reunion was held of many of the older members of the Society.

Owing to the engagements of our President, it became necessary to postpone the annual meeting from its usual time in May until after the summer vacation.

LORRIN ANDREWS, Recording Secretary.

REPORT OF THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

We had hoped to begin our report with a greeting from Miss Chamberlain to the society, but it has not yet arrived. For years she has been one who brought us, separated though we are, in touch with one another. Hers has been the warm, motherly heart that has taken in every "cousin" to the third and fourth generations from the missionary parents. Her sympathy still goes out to the sorrowing, and her joy mingles with the gladness of each. Hers has been a labor, a great labor, of love for the society these many years, and it is proper, now that she has been relieved of the work, that we unite in thanks for the past, while we ask for her continued sympathy, love and prayers.

Miss Chamberlain left Honolulu April 14th, for a visit to Mt. Holyoke College, to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of her graduation. She is spending a month in California, where she will meet many "cousins." The Friend will publish her letters each month. We wish her a restful visit and renewed health.

The Jubilee Report

There were one thousand copies of the Jubilee Report prepared and printed, at a cost of $154.00. The book proved just heavy enough to require three-cent postage. Five hundred and seventy copies were sent by mail, and two hundred and seventy-five were delivered in Honolulu, without cost. By request, postmasters have returned nineteen copies that were uncalled for, showing that the address of these "cousins" has been lost. The secretary earnestly solicits a notice of all changes in address, and of all marriages, births and deaths, that the reports may be as full as possible.

The Historical Album

In September, the sales of the Missionary Album were found to have amounted to but sixty-one percent of the first cost, and the committee was empowered to take such steps to meet the remaining expenses as they deemed best. At the next meeting they submitted the following paper:

"The committee in charge of the Historical Album of the H. M. C. S. have held two meetings for the discussion of ways and means, and now wish to lay before the Society the suggestions which they have proposed for disposing of the remainder of the edition, hoping that their action may be endorsed by the Society.

First—That the volumes already bound and in stock, be kept on sale at the prices first fixed.

Second—That the copies of unbound sheets be sold at the reduced price of two dollars a volume, to any one desirous of the same, to be made into portfolio collections, or bound at his own expense.

Third—If any one is inclined to make a contribution toward the debt still resting on the book, such persons may be entitled to copies of the same, either bound or unbound, to the amount of their contribution.

Fourth—In future, the postage will be assumed by the committee, hoping to have sale enough to increase the general fund."

At the January meeting, as the money was due and the need was pressing, the corresponding secretary was empowered to send out a circular letter to the different families of the Society, asking for help in extinguishing the debt. In February the letter was sent, and lest some families may have been omitted we insert it here:

Honolulu, Feb. 4, 1903.

Dear Cousin:

Our beloved society is in pilikia. We are owing the Album fund $655.00. This is now due the four gentlemen who signed the note on which funds to publish the album were raised. The note coming due, they were obliged to pay the same in cash, and should be repaid as soon as possible.

We ask you to help us if you can. The debt can be wiped out by the payment of one dollar by each member. By paying two dollars you will be entitled to an unbound copy of the album, mailed to your address. A copy in cloth will be sent for $5.00 or in morocco for $7.50.

As there are many members unable to send even one dollar at this time, we give those who have been prospered the privilege of donating $25.00, $50.00 or $100.00, and receiving its worth in books if desired.

Should there be a surplus, it will be used to cover the deficit in last years appropriations, amounting to $1,522.00.

The money should be sent to Lyle A. Dickey, Treasurer, Honolulu.

Yours very truly,

MRS. R. W. ANDREWS, Corresponding Secretary of the H. M. C. S.

In response to this letter, we have received many expressions of interest and good wishes, with $343 in money, and, thanks to these kind donors, we have been able to pay all but $175.40 of the Album debt.

A Word From Cousins

Little Margie Hitchcock was the first to acknowledge receipt of the Report, saying "I was so happy to get that little book that I just sat down and cried. It seemed as if I was with you all again. But I am not a little girl;

I am sixteen years old, am five feet ten inches tall, and weigh 145 pounds."

Maggie Hardy Dean says, "It does my heart good to read over the old familiar names."

Mrs. Alice Thurston Stevenson writes, "We have read the report over and over again, and enjoyed it so much. I want the children to know the place of their dear father's birth, and to keep in touch with his friends. Asa looks like his mother but has his father's disposition. He is in the sophomore year at Davidson College, where Lucy is teaching. Lucy, after graduating, spent a year at Northfield. She looks like her father."

In August, a very interesting letter came from Mrs. Church, asking to have her address changed from Lansing, Mich., to Oberlin, Ohio. She says "Our son Charley lives in Clifton Park, seven miles west of Cleveland, on the lake bluff, in natural woods. Albert and his family, in Chicago, are well: Louie has had a wonderful vacation in Oregon, having made, at the invitation of the Governor and his wife, the ascent of Mt. Washington, 12,402 feet high."

Miss E. D. Chapin writes, "I live in the same house that my father built more than fifty years ago, and have with me a good woman near my own age, as companion and helper. We are both looking forward to the better home, and doing what good we can in the mean time. My father and mother would have enjoyed, so much, looking at the familiar faces in this memorial book, but they enjoy, far more. the direct communication which they have in the other land."

Mrs. Carrie Rogers Deming says, "Owing to long sickness I have not been able to send for the book sooner."

Miss Harriet McDonald writes that she has been all run down, caring for and lifting her mother, and then a fall on the ice put her knee out of place and injured some of the nerves, so that she could not be on her feet much and was under the doctor's care. She says, "There is not a day passes, but I think of you all and wish I was among you. That was my home once. There used to be a paper called The Friend that dear mother had sent to her sometimes. I would like to see it again."

Mrs. Cloke, daughter of Mrs. McDonald Stetson, writes, when sending for an album, "So many of the names are familiar. I always enjoyed hearing father and mother talk of their life at the Islands, and if the time ever comes when I can take a pleasure trip, it will be to visit the spot around which cling so many tender thoughts and memories of the dear ones who have gone from us forever."

• Mr. H. P. Ives, in his acknowledgment of the Report, does not forget the oft forgotten annual dues. Mr. Charles H. W. Hitchcock gives the date of his marriage as May 16, 1901, instead of May 14, as given in the last Annual Report.

Miss H. W. Ludlow, sending $5.00 to help extinguish the debt, says "I shall greatly prize the copy you offer of the Missionary Album. I have always very highly appreciated the honor of membership in the "Cousins Society," conferred upon me in my long ago, always to be remembered, visit to the Islands."

Mr. Maurice Beckwith says, "I hope my mite may be of some service in the Society's present 'pilikia.' I remember my recent visit with pleasure. It seems that Honolulu is constantly on the move, constantly changing. However, I hope something familiar will loom up if I ever see the dear Islands again."

A long letter to Miss Chamberlain from Miss Norton tells of the Chautauqua Assembly, a visit from Prof. Hitchcock, and a trip through lake Eustace, Dead River and lake Harris to Yahalu, to see a large plant for preparing kaolin for shipping. She gives a vivid description of the plants and scenery near her Florida home. The letter is filled with the personality of Miss Norton, who has great aloha for Honolulu and the "Cousins."

Miss Potter writes a long, newsy letter. She is saddened by the sudden death of a dear cousin with whom she had made her home at different times. She says, "My cousin, Mary Green, and Mrs. Rouse all passed away within a few months of each other, and each one was near my own age. Fannie Rouse Carpenter came to see me in Brooklyn. She speaks and reads before clubs in the city and in other places. She is, besides, a lawyer, and does quite a little in that line. Her sister Mary lives in the South, and Fred, in the West, is a very successful minister and a fine preacher. I have seen Mary Beckwith a number of times. I think she, her mother and Martha, all miss the home." Miss Carpenter has been boarding near Ashville, N. C., during the winter—has been sick, and is longing to get back to her home at Woodstock. Lizzie Simpson had written her that she, Lizzie, is guite well, and is at home with her mother. Her father died a year ago, and Dora and her brother Edwin have gone as foreign missionaries, one to Africa, the other to India. Miss Cathcart, who is still teaching successfully at Lincoln Academy, wants Lizzie to go and help her, but Miss Simpson says if she leaves home at all she will go to Devon with Mr. and Mrs. Gulick. Miss Potter says for herself, 'I am glad I am a cousin, and wish I could respond to the call with all that is in my heart, but as my means are limited I can not do any thing. I enclose my dollar which vou will please hand in. It is nothing, but perhaps the prayer that goes with it will be something. Our church has a small missionary society, of which I am secretary. Next week it meets here. Tomorrow the Ladies Aid Society meets here. When one hasn't much to give, they must give more service, don't you think so?''

Miss E. W. Lyons, in response to the circular letters, sends "aloha" from the Waimea cousins, and says, "If each one lent a hand it would not take long to clear off all indebtedness."

Miss Julia Gulick, from Japan, suggests that "the Cousins Society might, as an organization, take up the work which our cousins, Frank Damon and his good wife, have done so admirably for so many years, of giving a welcome and a God-speed to the numerous missionaries, of all these eastern lands, who touch at Honolulu, either coming out or returning to the home-lands. Not that there has been any lack of service, but I covet for the society that represents all the descendents of the Hawaiian missionaries a share in that good work which seems such an especially appropriate one for them, and in which, as individuals, many Cousins take a share."

Mr. J. T. Gulick thinks an especially appropriate gift would be one from the Mission Children to the children of missionaries at Oberlin, Ohio, helping to endow a home for them there.

Mr. Wm. H. Gulick, of Spain, writes:

"You ask for a short sketch of Frederick's life for the next Annual Report. I have been too busy to write, but perhaps you can select some paragraphs from this letter and the enclosed copy of one to an intimate friend, Dr. Barton.

He was, indeed, a young man of great talent and promise. His profession was music, and those who had the opportunity to judge of his gifts, fully expected that he would take a high rank in his chosen art, but he always said that he was determined to be 'an educated musician:' to this end, and impelled by the love of study, he took a full course of four years at Harvard University of what, in Spain, is called 'Philosophy and Letters.' Simultaneously with this, he took the full university course of music under Professor Paine. Referring to a list of fifty-five books read during the last year of his life, one who knew him well, says, 'It is a remarkable list and shows a most cultivated, active and serious mind.'

He returned to Biarritz, from the winter's term at Munich and a few weeks in Switzerland, reaching us near the beginning of July, and spent most of the month with us. It was a very busy month with me, and Fred sat most of the time near my desk and by the window, out of which he looked at the sea and the Spanish mountains. He read unceasingly, and when I went to the mail or to town on business, he accompanied me, and we talked of what he was reading, about our work and plans for Spain, and about his future. It was his thought that, after he had made for himself a position, and done some serious work in the United States that should accredit him elsewhere, he would join us in Spain, where we have thought that on account of his especial gifts in music, literature and art, and because of his perfect command of Spanish, a field of wide usefulness awaited him.

During the four weeks he was here in July, he read for the second or third time, Balfour's 'Foundations of Belief;' also 'Immortality' and 'Through Nature to God,' by Prof. Fiske, of Harvard University; 'The Spirit of Modern Philosophy,' by Prof. Royce, of Harvard; 'Darwin and after Darwin,' three volumes by Remseys; 'The Thoughts of Marcus Aurelius Antoninus;' 'The Twentieth Century New Testament,' comparing it critically, as he read, with the parallel readings of the 'Revised Version' as well as with King James' Version; Prof. Moulton's 'Biblical Idyls' and 'Biblical Masterpieces;' Prof. Thayer's 'The Change of Attitude Towards the Bible;' Dr. Albert Lyman's 'Preaching in the New Age;' and most of 'The Life of Philips Brooks' in two volumes; and in French, a criticism of 'Modern French Literature,' by Paul Bourget, as well as other books and articles in English, Spanish and French, meanwhile keeping up practice on the piano from two to four hours in the day.

As we walked and talked, we planned to do some literary work together in the future. He was especially anxious that I should, without delay, write out incidents and adventures in my life at the Sandwich Islands when a youth, also on an uninhabited equatorial island where I once spent some months, and later in South America, on the Isthmus of Panama, in the interior of the United States of Colombia and in Venezuela.

We talked together freely and intimately on personal religion as well as on Biblical and theological subjects. While he took keen delight in talking of the deep things of religion, and of the thought and philosophies and sciences of the day, he realized that the all-imporant thing was personal union with God through Christ, and though he was not given to talking about himself, he often made it clear to me that he knew and enjoyed communion with his Heavenly Father. Though of an artistic and poetic temperament, he entered enthusiastically into our religious work, and looked forward to the day when he might be privileged to join us in Spain.

Nearly, perhaps more than three hundred letters have come to us expressing sympathy. One says 'I have never known the look of death so noble. No illness had wasted the fine, firm face that seemed, for all its white majesty, too alert, too eager, for sleep. Your boy lay there, in the flush of many flowers, with eyes closed as if he were listening, satisfied at last, to perfect music. Why should we weep for those who are done with weeping.'

This is the picture that now rests in my mind—the picture of his face illumined with an interior light, as he listens, absorbed and glowing, to strains of heavenly music.

Though the heart, with intensest yearning calls him back, we can say 'It is better so. He is happy, and we must go to him.'"

From Mr. Delaporte, we have the following letter:

Pleasant Island, Jan. 24th, 1903. The Hawaiian Mission Children's Society, Honolulu, H. I.

Dear Friends: We take pleasure in sending you a few words of appreciation of the kind interest which you have taken in our work during the past year.

We are glad to report a prosperous year. Many have been led to Christ, and a still larger number are giving this most important matter serious thought.

When we landed here, a little more than three years ago, we could count the natives who wore clothes and looked somewhat clean, on our fingers. Three years of preaching and teaching the Gospel of Christ has wrought a change on Pleasant Island. We are now able to count, say, seven hundred clean looking, fairly well clothed people at our Sabbath services.

Our day school is also flourishing. We have decided to admit ten bright boys under fourteen years into our boarding school, trusting the Lord to give us the means to support them. Thus with the two young men who are now more than two years with us, we have twelve scholars in our training school. D. V. we hope to train them to be a help and good examples to their people in years to come.

I have written an account of our work to the Rev. O. H. Gulick, the treasurer of the "Pleasant Island Mission," and he will without doubt pass it on to you.

We are very happy in our work and are glad to be among our people. The Roman Catholics have also begun work on this island—especially among those who attend our services. They do not seem to care much about converting the heathen—their usual way of doing missionary work in Micronesia.

Your four Pleasant Island Cousins are, with the exception of Mrs. Delaporte, well and happy. Mrs. Delaporte is quite poorly at the time of writing these lines, but is still doing her work among the girls and women. The bicycle, which several kind Honolulu ladies bought and donated to her is quite a help and comfort in her visitation and school work. She travels on an average more than 30 miles every week in going to and from her work.

In closing permit us to thank you most heartily for the financial aid which you give to our work. However, we not only need your financial aid but also your unceasing prayers in behalf of our humble endeavors in winning these poor natives for our Christ. We trust to prove by our work that we are worthy of the confidence which you have in us. We also hope that in the future, even as in the past, the missionary influence of the H. M. C. S. will be felt near and far.

Mrs. Delaporte unites with me in sending Christian wishes and a hearty "aloha" to you all.

Respectfully,

PH. A. DELAPORTE,
Missionary.

Through Mr. O. H. Gulick, in the May Friend, we have some additional items. Mr. Delaparte says, "Several hundred persons more than last year attend worship. Our church has attained a membership of ninety-eight, and there are many more candidates for baptism. At a service a few days ago we counted, and found that nine hundred seventy-four persons are worshipers at our different stations; nine hundred thirty-two people were present at that meeting. This is a very good showing for a population of, say, fifteen hundred.

We have now three church buildings and a chapel, and another chapel is in course of construction. Three day schools are still maintained at the mission. Most of the children are very faithful and cause us little or no trouble.

During the year we have translated, printed and bound the Gospels of Matthew and John, the epistles to the Galatians, first and second Timothy and the three epistles of John. Besides these, a little hymnbook containing sixty-six hymns has been prepared.

As we had no printing press we accepted Messrs. Channon and Rife's invitation to come over to Kusaie, four hundred miles from here, and have our books printed there. In two months and six days our work there was done."

From our missionary cousin of Mindanao, we have just received a letter from which we quote the following: "Your letter giving the needs of the Cousin's Society, and the way in which its members can render assistance, has lately been received. Mr. Townsend and I gladly send $5.00 for one of the bound copies issued by the society, and wish we could do more. We shall look forward with pleasure for the book, which we hope will reach us soon. You don't know how dear the old time friends are to us, and how we often long to see you all.'

The work among the people of this land is very interesting—especially the work among the Moros. We have the little, unwashed, unclothed children crowd around us, now that they have learned to place confidence in us. But it was only this morning, when we were singing 'Rock-a-bye-baby,' that one of the older girls let me take a little, naked baby and swing it in my arms as we sang. Yesterday it was a doll; to-day it was the real thing.

The girls are very much interested in some turkey-red dresses which they are making, and which will eventually be their own. Making their own clothes is part of the industrial work of the school. They are doing some pretty braid work, and also have their own looms for weaving cloth. Little by little they advance, but it is hard to see just where.

Mr. Townsend joins in sending our hearty 'aloha nui' to the Cousins, and best wishes for the success of the Society."

The Cousins are glad to welcome Dr. and Mrs. Scudder to Hawaii nei. Dr. Scudder's preparatory work in Japan, visiting friends of our island Japanese, and bringing hundreds of written messages of love and solicitude from far away loving parents, brothers and wives, seems an original and thoughtful method of gaining an entrance to the hearts of these wanderers, and a prophecy of a glorious harvest of souls.

We had the great pleasure, at our March meeting, of greeting Dr. and Mrs. Daniels, Home Secretary of the A. B. C. F. M., who said, among other interesting things, that he thought ours was the only one left of the many auxiliaries formed soon after the parent society was organized. The cause of the disbanding of these existed in the fact that every church had become a missionary society, and a separate organization was not needed.

Deaths

And now, we would speak softly, as we call the names of those who have passed away. Our bereavement is too recent, and too heartfelt to allow of more than mention. For those who have gone, we rejoice that they have answered the joyous call, "Come Home." Our sympathy is only for the lonely hearts left behind, and our regrets for the great void left in the world, which nothing earthly can fill.

In Chicago, May, 1902, Mrs. Eli Corwin. "A lovely, unselfish, Christian woman, none could know her without being charmed by her sweet Christian spirit."

At Orinoco, Min., Sept. 23, 1902, Mary Agnes Gulick entered into the Home where there shall be no more pain. One who knew her says, "Hers was a noble, beautiful life. Self-sacrificing, earnest, cheerful and patient, she followed in the footsteps of the Lord she loved."

In Boston, Mass., Sept. 26, 1902, Frederick Carleton Gulick, the only remaining, and talented son of Rev. Wm. H. and Alice G. Gulick, aged twenty-six years.

In Honolulu, Sept. 15, Philip L. Weaver, aged seventy-four years. "His long suffering was born with heroic patience, and his end was perfect peace."

"In Los Angeles, Sept. 27, 1902, Mrs. Ellen Holmes Beckwith suddenly, silently slept."

On Sept 29, 1902, Mary E. Green passed away. Two days before, at Mother Taylor's eighty-second birthday reception, Mary Green was in attendance, her own bright, cheerful self, and on the 29th "she was not, for God took her." She went away so beautifully, without pain or sickness. Her life was as sunshine in darkened valleys, and her death as a translation in a chariot of flowers,

In Bremen, Jan. 16, 1903. Paul Isenberg, Sr. Though living in Germany, he was engaged largely in business in the Islands, and was a giver to many good causes, one of his large gifts being a donation, from the firm of Hackfeld & Co., which led to the establishment of the German Lutheran church in Honolulu.

At Hampton, Va., Feb. 7, 1903, Mary Frances, wife of W. N. Armstrong.

In San Francisco, Feb. 21, 1903, Samuel W. Pogue.

At Alhambra, Cal., March 31, 1903, of pneumonia, Edward Bailey, aged eighty-nine. Father Bailey was the last of the missionary fathers. He took great interest in the Missionary Album, and in his last letter said

"I have a better picture now than the one in the album, but I hadn't then." In September he wrote, acknowledging the Annual Report, and said, "My health is better now than it has been lately. I continue painting, as usual, and enjoy it. Are we not in the edge of the millennium? What glorious revivals in parts of the world! Is it not glorious to be a coworker with God? His name be praised for every such He has given the world."

In Honolulu, April 7, 1903, Joseph Ballard Atherton. A loving husband and father, an active member of the H. M. C. S., a faithful attendant and helper in the prayer-meeting and church, and for twenty-one years superintendent of the Sabbath school, where thousands of children grew up to trust and honor him as a friend and Christian, no wonder the flags of the city were at half mast on the day of his funeral. His rare executive ability was accepted by him as one of the talents entrusted by the Master to "Occupy till I come," and now he has gone to hear the "Well done....enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

In Honolulu, April 23, 1903, William W. Dimond, aged forty years.

In Honolulu, May 9, 1903, Dr. George P. Andrews. He was a beloved physician whose sympathetic face has many times done us good like a medicine. With a heart that lingered over the beauties of nature and art, the whole influence of his life was to uplift humanity, and the world is better from his having lived in it.

In Cambridge, May 6, 1903, Mrs. Charlotte Dana Lyman.

In Honolulu, July 12, 1903, William Luther Wilcox, aged fifty years.

In Liberty, N. Y., Aug. 28, Dr. Alexander Montague Atherton, aged twenty-eight years.

In Honolulu, Aug. 27, 1903, Mrs. Eliza Thomas Gulick, aged ninety-nine years and five months.

Mention should be made of the death of Rev. T. T. Alexander, a missionary from Japan, sojourning for a time at A. F. Cooke's to gain strength for continued work. But his resting place became, instead, a vestibule of heaven. Our hearts went out in sympathy to the wife and children in the home land, and to the young daughter en route to Japan, who spent the last weeks with her father, and then went her lonely way.

We would note also the sudden death from heart trouble, of Mrs. Naomi Kekela, Aug. 30, 1902, at Waianae, the home of her daugher, our cousin Susan Mahelona. Rev. and Mrs. Kekela had been Hawaiian missionaries in the Marquesas for fifty years, returning three years ago. Her aged husband, seven of her ten children, nineteen grand-children and thirteen greatgrand-children survive her.

General News

For general news we have but little space. We are favored in having Henry Judd with us as temporary Superintendent of Palama chapel, a worker in the Sunday-School, and a helper in every good work.

Mr. Kincaid's present vacation in Palestine, made possible by a gift from a Cousin, is an item of interest.

The buying of the rights of the Tramcar system by the Rapid Transit Co., with rapid extension of its network of line has made great changes in Honolulu. But most note worthy in the islands' history has been the landing of the Pacific Cable at Waikiki, which brings the world's news directly to our shores.

It is not often that any society can chronicle two golden weddings in one year. The autumn of life, when the youthful hopes and expectations have been fulfilled, when the cares and toils of middle life are past, when the battles have been fought and won, and the time has at last arrived to count the wealth of affection and experience, and to rest in the love that surrounds and has surrounded so long, surely this is the gladdest time of all the years.

On May 31, 1902, in that same parlor where so many of the "Cousins" have been so hospitably welcomed, and which was artistically decked for the occasion with the beautiful "Golden-shower," Dr. and Mrs. Bisohp received their many friends. With their children and grand-children about them they thanked the kind Providence that had followed their varied but ever peaceful lives.

Tokens of love were many, and expressions of affection and appreciation heartfelt.

On April 17, 1903, occurred the golden wedding of Dr. and Mrs. Beckwith. Dr. Beckwith, writing from Hamakuapoko, Maui, says, "On the morning of April seventeen, ere the sun was up, the greetings began to break in upon our 'sweet dreams of peace,' and all the glad morning, the sprites that bring messages and things came trooping in."

The substantial gift from their loving Honolulu friends was accompanied by the following fitting tribute of love and esteem, penned by one of his devoted pupils, Mrs. Emma Dillingham.

"Beside the path your feet have trod, stand little children, youth, strong men, and those with faltering step, whose hands you have clasped, whose hopes you have stimulated, whose hearts you have strengthened, and whose faith you have sustained. Through all the years they have called you blessed, and now, on this golden day, they lay at your feet their most loyal and tender love and gratituade, praying that you may be spared yet many years to go in and out among them."

Postscript

Because of excessive business, meeting of Legislature, and absence of our executive officers, the Annual Meeting was postponed. This gives the secretary the opportunity of adding a few items of interest.

Palama Chapel loses the efficient services of Henry Judd, who left on Sept. 1, for Auburn Theological Seminary, New York. Rev. A. C. Logan, a cousin, lately a missionary in Guam, has been engaged to take the Palama work for a year.

Rev. J. P. Erdman, former assistant pastor of C. U. Church and pastor at Palama, spent a month in Honolulu on his way to take up mission work in Japan.

Hiram Bingham III, first superintendent of Palama work, is making a short visit to his parents.

Miss Helen S. Judd has also returned from abroad.

Mrs. Elizabeth (Bishop) Hillebrand, absent thirteen years, has come again to make her home in Honolulu. Her daughter, Miss Helen Hillebrand, is librarian in the Honolulu library.

Rev. Wm. M. Kincaid returned from his trip to Palestine, July 31. He purposes giving a series of stereopticon lectures soon, to illustrate his travels.

The report of the Hawaiian Evangelican Association tells of the withdrawal, by the American Board, of all financial assistance, and the assumption by the Hawaiian Association of the responsibilities of the mission work in these islands.

H. H. Parker's Ovation

A most interesting celebration occurred at Kawaiahao church, June 30, the occasion being the fortieth anniversary of Rev. H. H. Parker's pastorate. The Old Stone Church was beautifully and elaborately decorated. Over the great organ, on pendant Hawaiian and American flags, in golden letters, was the legend, "Forty Years Kahu Aloha" and the whole platform and organ loft was a garden of flowers.

Among the speakers were Hon. W. R. Castle, Rev. O. P. Emerson, Rev. W. N. Lono, of Kaumakapili, and Rev. E. S. Timoteo. Addresses were in Hawaiian and English.

Mr. Ai, assistant pastor, in behalf of many friends, presented Mr. Parker with a $240 watch, having engraved on the back a picture of the Old Stone Church, while on the face, in place of the twelve numerals, are the letters HENRY H. PARKER; also a purse with $150 in gold, and a handsomely bound album containing scores of congratulatory letters from many friends.

Among the great audience were Rev. H. Bingham, son of the Rev. Hiram Bingham who founded the church eighty years ago, Mrs. Ellen A. Weaver, daughter of Rev. Dr. Richard Armstrong, the second pastor, and Dr. A. B. Clark and Mrs. O. H. Gulick, son and daughter of the third pastor, Rev. E. W. Clark.

Gift of Parsonage Lot

Another large gathering was held at Kawaiahao, Aug. 30, to witness the unveiling of the Kaahumanu tablet. Gov. and Mrs. Dole, Ex-Queen Liliuokalani and many others of note, helped to swell the large audience.

Before the ceremony of unveiling the tablet, an address was made by Rev. Hiram Bingham. He spoke from the text, "Be watchful and strengthen the things which remain." He reviewed the history of the church as he remembered it, from the time when, a little child, he saved up small coin until he had a dollar to donate to the building of the present structure. He spoke of his undying love for it, and then tendered to it, on certain conditions, a lot upon which to erect a parsonage, the lot to be called "The Sybil Mosely Bingham Memorial in aid of Kawaiahao church."

The ceremony which followed was of great interest.

A letter from Miss Chamberlain, in The Friend, tells of her trip across the continent, her visit to relatives and "Cousins," the reunion of the Fifty-year class at Mt. Holyoke College, the National Educational Association which she attended, and her anticipated return. We shall gladly welcome her home to her beloved Hawaii nei.

EDUCATIONAL REPORTS

It is with great regret that the Society declares itself no longer able to render financial aid to these schools, which have for so many years been among its beneficiaries. Though we can not ask for yearly reports hereafter, we shall ever be interested in their welfare and always glad to hear of their success.

Chinese Mission Work

The year past has brought us much to be grateful for. The work has continued without interruption. At the country stations on the different islands, at the meetings on the plantations, here in the city, at church and gospel hall, much interest has been shown. Quite a number have joined the church through the year.

At the Chinese Church here in Honolulu, which is the largest center of Christian Chinese, there has been progress.

The church debt has all been paid. The Sunday school is doing active work, and sending their money to help on the gospel preaching in China.

The young people of the church are helping in various forms of Mission work. The last of October a Chinese Christian Endeavor Society was organized, which meets every Sabbath evening. The members take much interest in the meetings.

The boys from Mills Institute form quite a large part at all the weekly meetings. We want to reach their hearts as well as their minds, and make it a true Christian school. Mr. Damon speaking of Mills school says:

"It has been our aim to bring the influences of a broad and vigorous Christian training to bear upon these young minds and souls, at this most plastic period of their lives, so that they may enter into the glorious liberty, mental, moral and spiritual, which our own race so richly enjoys."

Another way in which we try to reach the Chinese is by street preaching. At some well lighted corner we soon gather a crowd, and they give good attention to what we say. A few weeks ago after one of our meetings, the crowd showed their appreciation by hearty clapping.

The Chinese work goes out to all the Islands. Native preachers are reaching their own people at the different stations. The aim is to make visits to all the plantations where Chinese are at work. The men gather in surprise and pleasure to hear themselves addressed in their own language. A few words about their own land and a simple message of Christ as a Savior for all people, seems to touch their hearts.

On Kauai there are large rice plantations and many Chinese at work. At present we have no worker employed there. However, a former student of Mills school has started a school on his own account, and is doing what he can to help his own countrymen.

On Maui Mr. Ting Ah Lin has done faithful work for many years. Mr. Cheung How Fo, also a graduate from Mills Institute, is at work among the Hakka-speaking Chinese.

Our work on the island of Hawaii, at Hilo and Kohala, goes on much the same as usual. We are grateful for help rendered by Rev. E. B. Turner, pastor of the Kohala Foreign church. He has always taken much interest in our Chinese.

One new preacher has come from China during the year, and is now actively engaged in preaching and teaching at Kohala.

Keep in mind the Chinese work. A visit to the church or Sunday School will always bring us encouragement.

We need the prayers and cooperation of all to reach the highest success.

REV. EDWARD W. THWING.

Hilo Boarding School

At the close of another year we are glad to report that the past year has been a prosperous one at Hilo Boarding School.

The attendance has increased and a good spirit has prevailed throughout the year. Ten members of the Christian Endeavor Society united with the Haili Church last April.

A class of six are to be graduated this year. These young men are all planning to continue their studies elsewhere next year.

During the year the old school building, which has served its purpose for so many years, was moved back to a site where it will be used for manual training purposes when the new school building is erected. It is still being used for classroom purposes as formerly, and will continue to be so used until enough funds have been accumulated to erect the new building.

Respectfully,

LEVI C. LYMAN, Principal Hilo Boarding School.

School opened in September with the usual number, for the first month, in attendance. Seventy-three (73) in all have been enrolled. Of these, forty-three (43) are Hawaiians, eleven (11) part Hawaiians, eight (8) Chinese, eight (8) Japanese, two (2) Portuguese, and one (1) white. Five (5) support themselves in part, and four are self-supporting. One has become so proficient in simple nursing that she will be able to support herself in school another year by devoting a part of her time to that work in the school. Another is expected to take charge of the weaving next year and thereby earn her own tuition.

Four of the pupils have united with the church this year, and a number of the others are profressing Christians, but have not yet taken a definite stand as church members. Several of the older girls teach in the Kawaiahao Sunday School and others assist in the sewing classes held there on Friday afternoon.

We gratefully record a donation of five hundred ($500.00) dollars from Hon. A. S. Wilcox, and a beguest of two hundred and fifty ($250.00) dollars from the estate of the late Mr. Allen. With one exception, all of the societies formerly rendering financial aid to the school have continued their contributions. for which we are sincerely grateful. In February Dr. Wile gave a lecture for the benefit of the school, from which we expected great things, but cleared only the small sum of twenty-nine ($29.00) dollars. The industrial departments of sewing, weaving and cooking have contributed not a little to the running expenses of the school, the cooking department alone bringing in almost fifty ($50.00) dollars.

A class in lace making was started in the second term.

With the exception of a protracted visitation of dengue fever, the health of the school has been good.

KATHERYN C. McLEOD.

Maunaolu Seminary

Miss M. E. Alexander leaves her work as principal of Maunaolu Seminary because of ill health. During the five years of her work here, she has had a particularly heavy burden because of the burning of the old seminary.

During the past year the students have shown their usual earnestness and good spirit. The health record, too, has been good.

We keep up our missionary society, Christtian Endeavor and King's Daughters. The Christian Endeavor gives something to foreign missions every month, The King's Daughters have paid twelve dollars toward the tuition of one of our girls this year: The girls plan to help Chinese work, and have just given five dollars toward the prospective monument in commemoration of the work of the missionary fathers on these islands.

During the coming year it is hoped to do much along industrial lines. We plan to start a regular graded course in sewing, beginning with bright worsted on canvas for the little ones, and having as an ultimate aim the fitting of the girls as seamstresses.

Special emphasis is also to be laid on excellent laundry work. We hope to do something with the teaching of plain cooking, but our work in this line is limited because of lack of proper equipment.

Beside their lauhala work, the girls have this year been taught lace making. The support of the native lace teacher has come through Miss Lucy Adams of Honolulu.

We are now planning a graded course of study for academic work with a view to making the teaching as thoroughly practical as possible.

Since we are making every effort to build up the school on industrial lines, and to make all the teaching tend toward character building and the making of good homes, it is hoped former friends will take new interest, and will give us the substantial aid which will make it possible for us to carry out our plans.

> CLARA M. SNOW, Principal.

Kohala Seminary

This year shows an increased enrollment, there having been sixty girls entered within the year. Of this number eighteen pay full tuition, two earn their own support, thirty one pay part tuition, and nine are wholly dependent upon support given them by friends of the school.

The general health of the school has been exceptionally good.

The work accomplished in each department of the school has been quite satisfactory. The house keeping and weaving departments have earned about $150 each, through sales.

The lace making industry, which is a new feature of the year, has proved an interesting and beautiful work.

Our girls have the banner Junior Christian Endeavor Society of Hawaii, and great interest is manifested in the work of the society.

The school is very grateful to those who have given financial aid, and wishes that there were more such friends, for not only is the money needed for the support of worthy girls but also for improvements on the school property.

This leaves unpaid last year's appropriation for Pleasant Island Mission, $150.00; all our unpaid appropriations of two years ago and $175.40 balance due for publishing the Missionary Album, due in equal amounts to S. M. Damon, the Executor of the will of J. B. Atherton, Wm. W. Hall and Chas. M. Cooke, who advanced the money to make the last payment to Bishop & Co.

The balance of $105.60 has not been expended, because the treasurer wishes directions from the society as to which of these matters he should apply this money or whether it should be reserved and used for printing our annual report.

ADDRESS OF RETIRING PRESIDENT, C. H. DICKEY.

The year past has been a very quiet one. After our great "Jubilee Meeting" held in Central Union Church at the beginning of the year, which was a great success, the remaining meetings of the year have been very poorly attended, and by the same few cousins.

It seems to me that the society has largely outlived its usefulness in many directions. In the beginning it was largely a social organization to fill the want of the young people of the mission for social life, with just enough of the missionary idea in it to give it dignity. Later the mission idea was greatly enlarged and the society was able to do a great deal to uplift the peoples of the Pacific; its donations, as shown by the financial address of Rev.W. D. Westervelt at the Jubilee, aggregating over $70,000.00, the largest amount given being $6,769.29, in 1890.

Since the fall in the price of sugar and the labor troubles of the sugar plantations have reduced their earnings, the cousins who have usually paid the bulk of the income of the society have been unable to pay in as liberally as formerly, many of them dropping their donations entirely. The result is that not only has the society been obliged to drop its appropriations for most of its missionary efforts, but it has not been able to redeem its pledges of two years ago, made before the appropriations were dropped, and has not been able even in the past year to pay the small appropriation made for the Pleasant Island mission.

I see no immediate prospect of a change for the better in the near future, and it seems to me that the time has come when we should stop making pledges which we are unable to fulfill.

I recommend that a committee be appointed to canvass for subscriptions for the amount heretofore appropriated for the Pleasant Island mission, and when sufficient is secured, that the mission be turned over to the Rev. Orramel Gulick to be dispensed by him. That being done I would advise that no missionary appropriations be made hereafter by this society, but that cousins wishing to give for such purposes do so through the various missionary societies.

As a social body great changes have taken place in the nature of the society since its organization. At first it consisted mainly of the children of the missionaries, and being about the only social organization on the islands, was attended in force by all the members in Honolulu and their friends. Gradually the original children have died off and moved away, and only a corporal's guard remain. Of these only a very few actually attend the meetings. The others either have social duties which engross them, or they are too old and infirm to come out at night. If the grand-children and great-grandchildren residing here were ready to take up the duties which their parents owe to the society it would be all right, but they are not disposed so to do. All the young people have their new and personal duties, both social and commercial, which they think of greater importance than perpetuating the memory of their forefathers as missionaries by carrying on a society such as this. Look around and see how many of the present generation of cousins are in attendance tonight, at a place easy of access from all parts of the city by the electric cars. If there are more than half a dozen as the representatives of hundreds living in Honolulu, it is a great exception to the ordinary meetings.

What then shall we do? The society ought not to be allowed to die. There are too many memories clustering around it for that to be thought of. There are too many members of it in foreign lands, whose only link with the old missionary home is through their connection with the society. It must not die. Shall we then keep on trying to have a monthly or bi-monthly meeting with none but the old stand-bys in attendance? Would it not be better to have a good rousing meeting once a year than to have half a dozen irregular and poorly attended meetings as at present?

Such a meeting might be held at the time of the gathering of the Hawaiian Evangelical Association, in June of each year, and if properly advertised and a special effort made to get out young and old, it ought to have a huge attendance.

Nothing should be done in haste or without careful thought, but I feel that something must be done to improve the present status of the society.

If we cannot raise funds there is no use in appropriating in prospect of getting them. If we cannot have attendance there is no use in having meetings.

It surely is much better to make our expenses as low as possible and live within our income, and to have one good meeting a year than several poorly attended ones.

May God guide us to the best solution of the problem.
